

Joint Online Event Series 2023: Equity and Female Opportunities in Academia

Are you hiring the best people? Limiting unconscious bias by structuring employee selection.

Online Workshop

Dr. Tanja Hentschel

Assistant Professor, University of Amsterdam

8 February 2023, 09.00 am - 4.30 pm

The workshop will deal with the biases and stereotypes in application and employee selection processes. The workshop will explain why and how this can influence personnel selection.

Dr. Tanja Hentschel will speak about possible ways to reduce these biases through a professional selection process, and she will give tips on the interaction and customization of these situations.

These will include: creating job specifications, reviewing existing & revised job ads for bias, creating interview questions and considering work samples.

This workshop is aimed at all TRR289 and CRC/TR296 members at all career levels. It is going to be online and in English.
