

Neurophysiologisches Seminar – Seminar in Essen Summer term 2023

Hybrid lectures (face-to-face & via Zoom), starting at 5.15 pm

Face-to-face: Conference room, Ground floor, Herzzentrum

13.04.23 Prof. Dr. Denika Narain (Dept. of Neuroscience, Erasmus Medical Center, Rotterdam, NL): „Neural circuits underlying the learning of temporal contexts.”

20.04.23 PD Dr. Simone Zittel (Department of Neurology, University Hospital Hamburg-Eppendorf): „The role of the cerebellum in Parkinson's disease tremor.”

27.04.23 Prof. Dr. Tina Lonsdorf (Department of Biological Psychology and Cognitive Neuroscience, University of Bielefeld): „Defensive responding from bench to bedside- A meta-scientific perspective on translational challenges and potential remedies.”

01.06.23 Dr. Kati Roesmann (Department of Clinical Psychology, University of Siegen): „Neurocognitive correlates of fear conditioning and generalization – from biopsychological mechanisms towards successful anxiety treatment?“

15.06.23 10 am !! Prof. Dr. Kinya Ishikawa (Department of Neurology and Neurological Science, Tokyo Medical and Dental University, Tokyo, Japan): „SCA6: A disease of mixed features with polyglutamine and channel protein mechanisms.”

29.06.23 Prof. Dr. Stephan Klebe (Neurologische Universitätsklinik Essen): „POLR3A – one gene, many faces?”

13.07.23 Prof. Dr. Raffael Kalisch (Leibniz Institute for Resilience Research, Mainz): „A dopaminergic basis for fear extinction.”

28.09.23 Prof. Dr. Jörn Diedrichsen (Departments of Computer Science and Statistical and Actuarial Sciences, Western University, London, ON, Canada): „Studying cortico-cerebellar loops in humans across functional domains.”

Kontakt: Prof. Dr. D. Timmann-Braun
Neurologische Uniklinik Essen
Tel. 0201 – 723 2180; Dagmar.Timmann-Braun@uni-due.de